What is the long duration energy storage Investment Support Scheme?

Long Duration Electricity Storage investment support scheme will boost investor confidence and unlock billions in funding for vital projects. The UK is a step closer to energy independence as the government launches a new scheme to help build energy storage infrastructure.

How many long-term energy service agreements will AEMO services provide?

Five projects representing 750 MW of renewable energy generation and 524 MW (4,192 MWh) of long-duration storage have received Long-Term Energy Service Agreements following AEMO Services' rigorous two-stage tender assessment process. Each of the storage projects will have a continuous discharge capacity of at least 8 hours.

Are energy storage technologies more cost effective and ready for commercialization?

Through investments and ongoing initiatives like DOE's Energy Storage Grand Challenge --which draws on the extensive research capabilities of the DOE National Laboratories, universities, and industry--energy-storage technologies are now more cost effective and ready for commercialization.

How long will a storage project last?

Each of the storage projects will have a continuous discharge capacity of at least 8 hours. The projects are expected to be operational before 2028 and to make meaningful contributions to the local workforce and communities. The tender sought an indicative 2,500 GWh (around 950 MW) of generation and up to 550 MW of long-duration storage capacity.

Why do we need energy storage funding?

"These funding opportunities help propel the future of energy storage and deliver cost-effective solutions for our nation's electricity needs" said Gene Rodrigues, Assistant Secretary for Electricity. "Energy storage bolsters system reliability and enables every American to benefit from abundant and affordable clean energy.

A total of five projects were awarded under South Africa's Battery Energy Storage Procurement Program by the country's Department of Mineral Resources and Energy in March 2023.
