What is China Southern power grid?

China Southern Power Grid ("Southern Grid") is one of China's two major state-owned power distributors that serve five southern provinces: Guangdong, Guangxi, Yunnan, Guizhou and Hainan. The region has witnessed a rapid build-up of power generation capacity, from 275 GW in 2015 to 350 GW in 2020.

How many kilowatt-hours does China Southern power grid use?

China Southern Power Grid said the five regions that it covers have consumed 540 billion kilowatt-hours of clean energy during the first nine months, with the renewable energy generation efficiency reaching 99.81 percent, up 0.22 percent year-on-year. Newly added installation of new energy reached 3.31 million kW.

What is the research on DC microgrids in China?

From 2009 to 2016, research on DC microgrids in China has gradually involved many different aspects, such as the study of DC microgrid power electronic converters, DC circuit breakers, and other key equipment, as well as operation control technology, protection, and energy management.

What is a microgrid in China?

In 2004, China began to carry out research on the concept of microgrids as proposed by the United States. This research has been based on the connection of distributed generation to large electrical grids via AC (alternating current) microgrids and the impacts of microgrids on large grids.

Why are power grid dispatchers facing a security problem in Southwest China?

The rapid growth of distributed photovoltaic and wind power installed capacity in Southwest China has reduced the operation safety margin of the power grid. Power grid dispatchers face the dilemma of ensuring security of the power grid and the output curtailment of renewable energy.

How does distributed energy work in Southwest China?

Therefore, in Southwest China, the combination of distributed energy with traditional power, energy conversion devices, and flexible loads to form MEGs, and the joint operation with the active DN effectively satisfies the overall objectives of power grid operation.
