Can you use adhesive on solar panels?

I strongly urge you to avoid using any adhesive for solar panels. Keep in mind that flexible solar panels don't last long. You will probably need to replace them every couple of years. That will be a challenge with them glued in place. For rigid panels, the best adhesive would be M6 bolts.

How much adhesive do I need for a solar panel bracket?

If you're using adhesive you want as much surface area connection between the bracket and the roof. A couple inches of bracket may not be enough. Using adhesive under Unistrut that matches the full length of the solar panels is much better. But I'm a lot more comfortable with actual fasteners.

What is the best adhesive for rigid panels?

For rigid panels, the best adhesive would be M6 bolts. These are rigid panels being mounted on aluminium brackets. I'll actually be replacing one of the factory panels and notice they only use adhesive. M6 bolts make sense for strength, my concern is they introduce an entry point for moisture.

How do solar panel rails work?

Our adhesives secure solar panel rails to the roof eliminating the need to drill holes, which can potentially let in moisture or bacteria. Our adhesives are very flexible - achieving 190% elongation - enabling the rail to absorb thrust and shock produced by high wind speeds.

Can solar panels be installed on a metal roof?

If you're installing solar panel arrays on a metal or concrete roof, eliminate the need to drill holes. Our adhesives securely attach photovoltaic solar panel mounting rails to the rooftop without damaging the roof's structural integrity or letting elements such as rain and bacteria seep in through these holes.
