Will Indonesia build a battery energy storage system?

by Bambang Purwanto JAKARTA, March 18 (Xinhua) -- Indonesia's state-owned electricity company PT PLN and its subsidiaries have collaborated with the Indonesia Battery Corporation (IBC) to build a battery energy storage system (BESS) with a capacity of 5 Megawatts (MW) this year.

Do energy storage systems provide virtual inertia?

Literature supports that energy storage systems (ES) can be instrumental in providing virtual inertia and are critical for the frequency regulation of power systems with high penetration of renewable energy sources (Fernandez-Guillamain et al., 2019).

What is the best battery capacity for energy storage?

As the focus shifts to more extended targets, batteries with a 4-hour capacity are recognized as more cost-effective and become the predominant choice. Over time, the least-cost strategy evolves to incorporate 10-hour capacity batteries to meet long-term energy storage requirements.

What are the different types of energy storage technologies?

In the domain of energy storage, technologies vary from mechanical forms like pumped hydro and compressed air energy storage (CAES), to thermal options such as sensible thermal energy storage and concentrated solar power.

Which provinces are a potential site for energy storage construction?

In our model, eleven provinces were identified as potential sites for energy storage construction. According to the RUPTL (PLN, 2021), an operational capacity of 300 MW of energy storage is anticipated by 2030, primarily in Lampung and North Sumatra.
